PUBLIC SESSION
G 014/08/26	A representative from ACE provided an update on the youth provision and outlined the reasons for the funding request. Members were advised that the youth centre had welcomed 317 young people across 10 sessions, including 22 new young people, despite the service not currently being actively advertised. It was explained that ACE's longer-term aim was for the charity and its services to become self-sustaining rather than reliant on grant funding. However, delays to anticipated external funding streams had resulted in the charity using its reserves and had affected its ability to retain staff and maintain the youth provision. ACE was therefore seeking funding to help secure the youth provision during the transition to its sustainable education programme, which was expected to begin generating income during the following year and progressively contribute towards the charity's overheads. The representative explained that ACE continued to generate income through community fundraising and donations, providing examples of recent fundraising activities and contributions received from local businesses and organisations. Members asked questions regarding ACE's current fundraising and donations, the anticipated timescale for becoming self-sustaining, and the impact that delays to external grant funding had had on the charity's reserves and eligibility for other funding opportunities. The representative confirmed that delays to a number of grant funding streams had created difficulties for the charity and referred specifically to funding previously available through the Household Support Fund, now the Crisis and Resilience Fund, for which further information was expected following a meeting in September. Members were invited to visit the youth centre to see the provision and its work firsthand.

G 015/08/026	A representative from Valley Leisure gave a presentation on the "I Can Get Up" initiative, a two-hour information workshop designed to help people learn techniques to get themselves up safely following a non-injurious fall. The representative explained that the initiative had been developed following a personal experience of assisting an individual who had fallen and had faced a lengthy wait for an ambulance. Four workshops had subsequently been delivered at the Therapy Centre in Union Street, supporting approximately 40 people. Members were advised that feedback from participants had demonstrated an increase in knowledge and confidence following the workshops, with reported confidence in recovering from a fall increasing from approximately 4 out of 10 to 8 out of 10. Some previous participants had since experienced falls and had successfully used techniques learned during the sessions. It was explained that the workshops aimed to empower individuals to manage non-injurious falls where appropriate, potentially reducing the need to contact family and friends, NHS 111 or emergency services, as well as reducing the risk of a prolonged period on the floor. Funding was sought to expand the programme and reach people across Andover who were not already accessing Valley Leisure's services. The proposal was to deliver four workshops per year for three years, accommodating up to 15 participants per workshop, with the potential to reach approximately 180 people directly. Members asked questions regarding Valley Leisure's organisational structure and whether similar falls-related services were already provided by the NHS or Hampshire County Council. The representative explained that existing services were primarily clinically led and focused on falls prevention and assessment, whereas the proposed workshops focused specifically on fall recovery techniques. Members also discussed the costs associated with delivering the programme, with the representative confirming that securing suitable premises remained a significant element of the cost. The representative was thanked for attending and presenting the application.

G 023/08/26	Prior to entering into discussion regarding the next two grant applications, the Clerk drew members' attention to the budgetary information at (A) and (B) accompanying the agenda. It was noted that, were the full amounts requested by the applicants for the next two grant applications to be awarded, the relevant budget lines and Earmarked Reserves would be almost entirely exhausted, leaving no capacity for further Revenue Grant applications within this financial year. Members were advised that this would inevitably have an effect on Precept requirements for the next financial year, and that this should be borne in mind before reaching a decision. REVENUE: Andover Community Engage (ACE) – ACE Youth – £32,128 Members reviewed the application and entered into discussion. It was proposed by Councillor E Reynolds and seconded by Councillor M Farren that the grant application for £32,128 be recommended to Full Council for consideration and approval.
